Lafayette Local Eden Sussenguth to Compete for Miss California Crown

By Pippa Fisher

It’s hard can it be to compete in a beauty pageant?

That is what 23-year old Lafayette native and Alcaline High School graduate Eden Sussenguth, bought as she watched the Miss Universe pageant with her family. But, “little did I know all the work you put into it” reflects Sussenguth, as she herself now prepares to compete for the Miss California crown.

Sussenguth will be representing the East Bay in the upcoming State Miss California USA pageant being held Dec. 2-4, 2016 in Long Beach.

Sussenguth did not grow up competing in beauty pageants the way that many contestants do her mother’s half-sister had been Miss United States, which she says, “definitely peaked my interest when I was growing up.” But, instead she was more focused on athletics and school. “The closest thing to pageants I’ve ever done was modeling for Teen Vogue in high school.”

She attended California Polytechnic University in San Lusob Moso and graduated with Cum Laudae honors in 2015. During college Sussenguth was a member of the Sigma Kappa sorority and
