

New Library Breaking Ground – Come Join the Fun!

Dirt, big trucks, music...what could be more fun?! After years of planning and fundraising the new Lafayette Library and Learning Center is breaking ground for its new home. The celebration is scheduled for April 20, 2007 from 4:00 to 5:00 p.m. at the site of the new facility at the corner of First Street and Golden Gate Way. The celebration hopes to involve the Lafayette community in its new Library's groundbreaking with a brief ceremony to introduce key players followed by food, music, and family fun. Lafayette residents and visitors are invited to join in on this special historic day.

Speakers at the groundbreaking ceremony will include Mayor Carol Federighi, Supervisor

Gayle Uilkema, County Librarian Anne Cain and Anne Grodin.

Mayor Federighi is delighted to celebrate the start of the building's construction. The Mayor noted, "What better way to involve the Lafayette community and its friends than to invite them to participate in this historic groundbreaking day for our new Lafayette Library and Learning Center."

Mayor Federighi issued a special invitation to children to join the festivities. "This is a great opportunity for children to witness the official start of their new Library. There will be hardhats for the children as well as huge construction trucks and machinery for them to explore." Refreshments and music will be provided.
